

DR. HIBBEN TALKS OF AMERICA FIRST

Baccalaureate Sermon at Princeton Deprecates Selfish View of Conditions

NATION'S DUTY TO WORLD

Princeton, N. J., June 20.—Dr. John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton University, in his baccalaureate sermon yesterday said: "The universal law, that opportunity appears in the way of duty, is true, not only of the individual life, but of the life of the nation as well. We are in a position in America at the present crisis of the world's history where, following the line of least resistance, it seems to many to be wise on our part to buy immunity from world responsibilities, and consequently world opportunities, in order that we may develop our own resources and be a realm unto ourselves."

"There is a cry today which is heard throughout our land, America first. If this signifies, as I am afraid it is so often regarded, a self-centered policy and program for our international life, I resent it with all my being."

"I believe, however, most profoundly in the idea of America first, if we interpret this national slogan as America first in the service of the world; first in its ready response to the world's needs and its wise and generous leading of the nations of the earth into the larger life of mutual understanding and concerted action in obtaining the liberty, equality and fraternity which form the reward and the glory of all human endeavor; first to use its great power and influence to realize the desire of all peoples of the earth, the disarmament of the nations and the permanent peace of the world."

In the list of the men who have received scholastic prizes at Princeton in the last year the names of eighteen Pennsylvania men including two from Philadelphia appear. The list includes the following from this State:

YALE TO INAUGURATE NEW PRESIDENT

New Haven, Conn., June 20.—Yale seniors, to whom college custom of decades has given over the Monday of the annual commencement week, were today partially sidetracked as the central attraction. The arrival of scores of the delegates to attend the inauguration of President-elect Ansell has given the commencement an inauguration flavor which has swept away many of the formalities and precedents which have hitherto been centered in the commencement program.

At the class day exercises this morning of the Sheffield Scientific School, the class history was given by James Alexander Smith, Jr., of Chambersburg, Pa., the class oration by Edward Patrick Francis Egan, of Denver, and the class prophecy by John Brown Payson, of Portland, Me.

The class day exercises of the academic department were held this afternoon in the amphitheatre in the rear of Vandeventer Hall. The class orator was Robert Maynard Hutchins, of Berea, Ky.

Aside from the induction into office of a new president, an unusually large number of changes in personnel and policy will be put into effect. The resignation of ex-Dean Henry Wade Rogers as instructor in the Law School is announced. He will retire next week. Reports are current that Prof. Russell H. Chittenden, director of the Sheffield Scientific School, is planning to retire at once.

The corporation has made Arthur T. Hadley president emeritus and the resignation indicates the plan of Dr. Hadley to remain in active connection with the university. He will devote much of his time to writing.

It is expected that three of the persons who will be given degrees on Wednesday will be Madame Curie, Dr. James, the distinguished British surgeon, and John W. Davis, former Minister to Great Britain.

LOWELL ON CLEAR THINKING

Harvard's President Tells Graduates It is World's Real Need

Cambridge, Mass., June 20.—"The world is in confusion—the natural result of the turmoil of thought, the exhalation of feeling that accompany and follow a great war," Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard University, said in the graduating classes in his baccalaureate sermon yesterday.

"Conditions have not yet returned to a normal state; nor has the world adjusted itself to them. In such a state of bewilderment, of misunderstanding, of cross purposes, what is needed? The answer is clear thinking."

As to patriotism, said Dr. Lowell, "Frederick proclaimed the doctrine that there can be no moral obligation superior to the national interest, and many Germans adopted his ideas in whole or in part. I think it may be argued that if this conception of duty, or something akin to it, had not been prevalent in Germany it would not have been possible for any man, however close to the source of authority, to have led Germany into the war."

Weeks Gets Another Degree
Medford, Mass., June 20.—By A. P. C. The honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon Secretary of War John W. Weeks at the sixty-fifth commencement exercises of Tufts College today. Evangeline Booth, commander of the Salvation Army, was awarded the degree of master of arts.

COOLIDGE EXHORTS AMHERST THROUGH

Mere Prosperity Won't Do, He Says at Centennial Exercises

RELY ON SPIRITUAL FORCES

By the Associated Press
Amherst, Mass., June 20.—Spiritual values are the only reliance of the world in trying to meet present problems, Vice President Coolidge said at the opening exercises of the centennial celebration of Amherst College today.

"The work of the world will not be done," he declared, "unless it is done for a motive of righteousness."

After recalling that Amherst College was founded for "civilizing and evangelizing the world by the classical education of indigent young men of piety and talent," Vice President Coolidge said:

"Individuals and nations are at the present time afflicted with great burdens. As a result of the readjustment which has taken place during the last year, men find their resources very much impaired, with no corresponding reduction of their expenses. Often times both capital and credit have been entirely exhausted."

"The nations of the earth are struggling under a great load of debt incurred and resulting from the war. The raising of sufficient revenues to meet the costs of government is not only a grievous burden, but in some cases has not yet been found possible.

"The world must look for something more than prosperity in the present situation. The individual must look for something more than wages and profits for his compensation. Unless this satisfaction can be found by proceeding in the way of right and truth and justice, the search for it will fail."

"The material things of life cannot stand alone. Unless they are sustained by the spiritual things of life, they are not sustained at all."

Such Furniture Values As These We Believe Are Unequaled Anywhere

The Furniture World has experienced one of the greatest and most favorable price changes it has ever passed through. The downward revision that has taken place in the costs of manufacture, particularly within the past few months, is extraordinary. A situation the Van Sciver Store has made the most of by heavy purchases for Spring business. At the same time we increased the output of our own factory just when manufacturing costs reached their lowest ebb in years.

In consequence, this Store is today enjoying one of the most unusual demands which the public ever made for Van Sciver Furniture. Furniture as fine as ever beautified a home or added to the comforts of the family. Here for the Summer Bungalow, the Seaside Cottage, the City and Suburban Dwelling; with an almost countless array for Bridal Gifts. Values that we believe are head and shoulders over anything in the Furniture business.

What is more—surplus stocks bought from leading manufacturers for cash, as well as great reductions on lines discontinued since early Spring, due to the changing conditions in the Manufacturing World, add to our money-saving inducements.

This beautiful Bedroom Suite, fashioned after the style of Louis XVI, is finished in a delightful shade of Ivory, embellished in rich ornamentations daintily tinted in beautiful colorings. An exquisite and imposing group. Each piece, elegant in proportion and graceful in line, stands out a thing of beauty in itself. One of the many attractively priced Suites in our immense galleries.
